Editorial

By Judy Oliver and Sydney Tice, Carmel High School Seniors and Co-Editors of the 24th Annual School Issue of the Pine Cone.

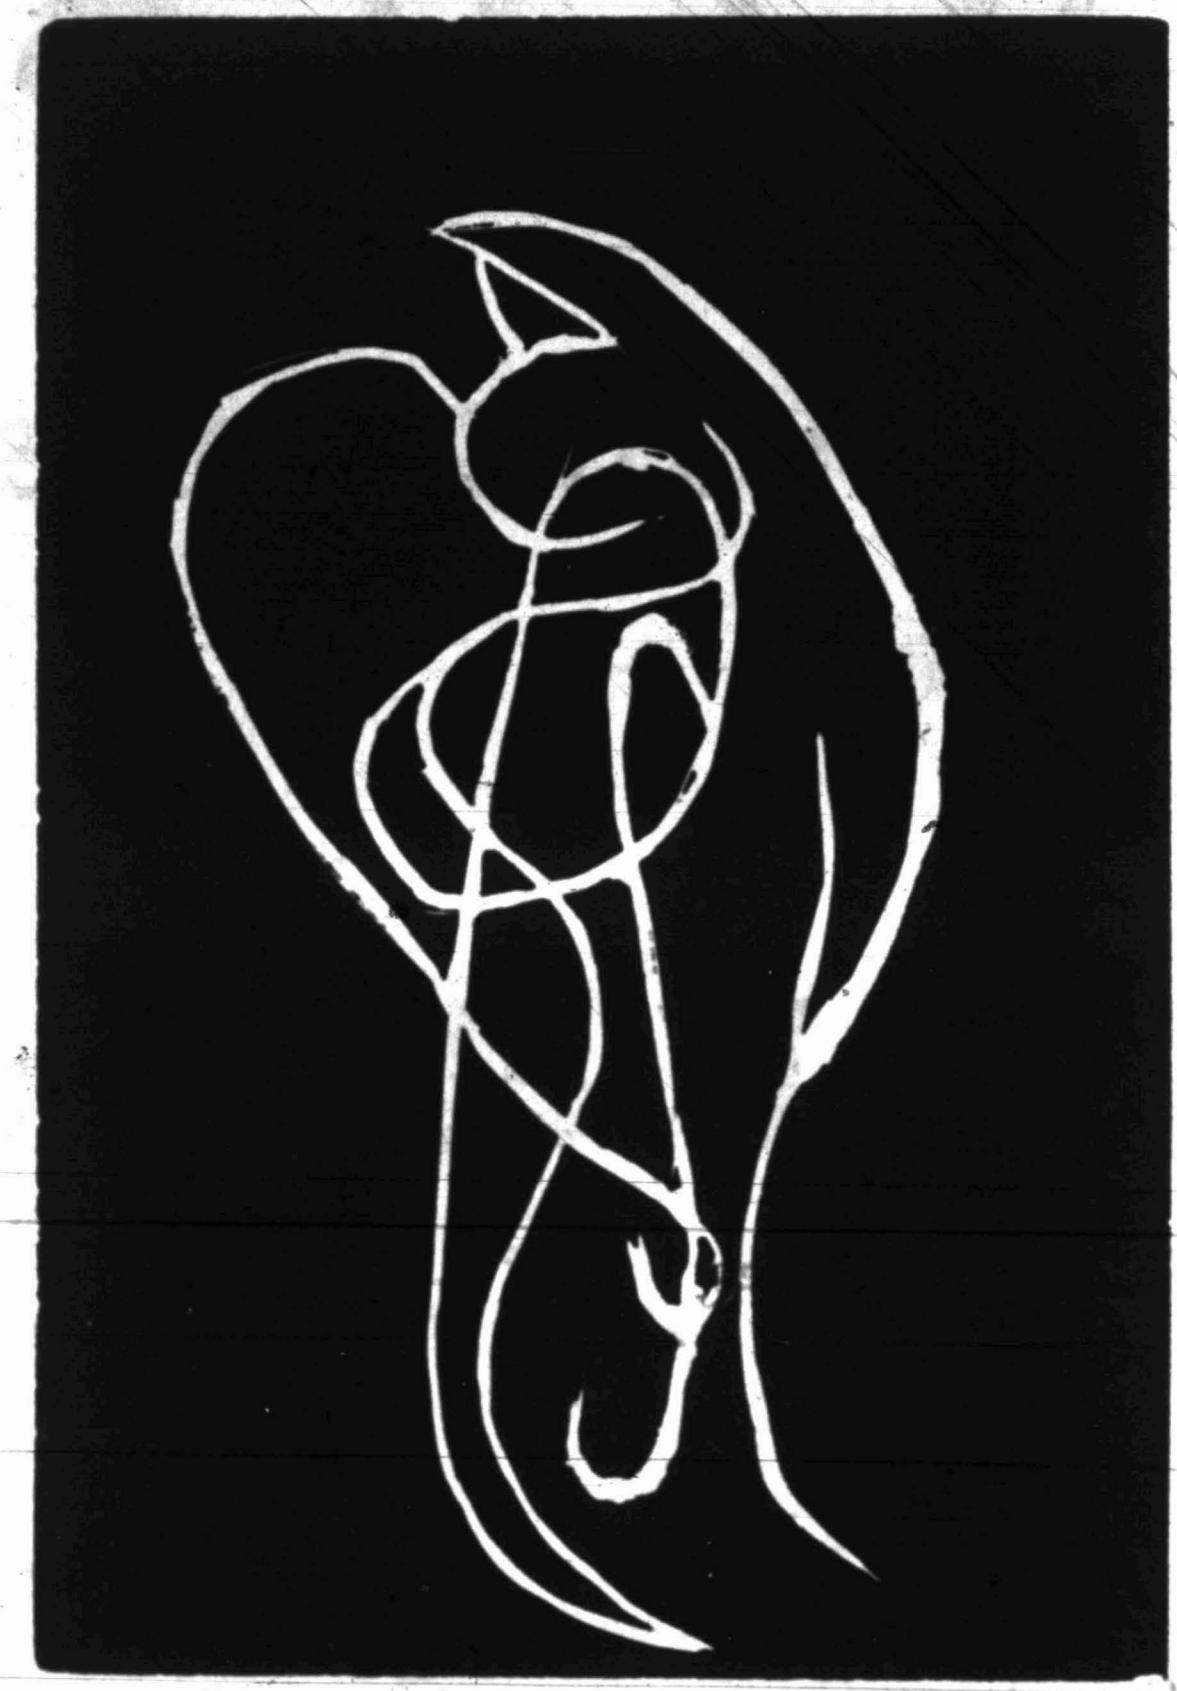

Nationwide, juvenile crime is steadily increasing and not only with mere vandalism. The age of youthful offenders has gradually descended and compared to past years, the crimes have become more violent. But this doesn't mean that crime is a universal menace. Conditions vary from city to city, and in crime, it is not a serious problem at all. This is what we, the editors, are primarily concerned with. In looking over some of the statistics as presented in J. Edgar Hoover's special report on crime, we saw something particularly unbelievable in that the juvenile population has increased only 5% in the past year, while the rate of juvenile crime rose at the astounding rate of 20%. Mr. Hoover also stated in his report that the only way to prevent or remedy these crime problems is on a local basis. That is exactly what has occurred here in Carmel.

In a personal interview with Chief of Police Clyde Klaumann, it was revealed that the problem of juvenile vandalism in Carmel is very small and actually waning. However, before the construction of our Youth Center five years ago, it was a fairly serious problem. Chief Klaumann explained that the Youth Center has provided the teen-agers with a place to go, thus eliminating the temptations of vandalism that do arise with lack of adequate recreational facilities.

We would like, now, to elaborate slightly on the question, "What is the Youth Center in our town doing to help the promotion of your children into normal, healthy adults?" With the opening of the Youth Follies tonight, we have a good starting point. First of all, the show is put on by the youth of Carmel, with, of course, adult supervision. The money raised from ticket sales, which is done almost entirely by members of the Youth Center, goes into the Youth Center Fund to provide more and better facilities. The preparations for the Follies are many and trying, but there is a prevailing willingness to make it a success. Right there is one quality that should belong to every mature adult. Another quality which is gained from the Follies is a sense of responsibility which must be had by every participant to insure success.

Leaving the Youth Follies for now, we shall take up a few of the organizations and individuals who have contributed to the welfare of Carmel's youth. For instance, the generous provision of first-rate movies by the Lions and Rotary Clubs, which are shown free of charge to the center's members. An individual, never to be forgotten by any Youth Center member, one who has contributed through that organization to the building of better adults, is Bing Crosby. Not only has he provided material, but he has come to epitomize all that is good.

As far as the youth activities of the community are concerned, most of them stem from the Carmel Youth Center, with the exception

An abstract treatment of the Madonna, linoleum block by Suzan Medlock, 8th grade Sunset student of William Buckman's art class. There will be a Madonna show at the Carmel Art Galleries by Association members, starting May 1.

Youth Center Puts On Annual Follies At Sunset Tonight And Tomorrow

Again the Carmel Youth Center puts on its big show. Tonight at 8:00 o'clock, the Fifth Annual Youth Follies will be presented on stage at the Sunset Auditorium. The show will run tonight and tomorrow night at the tune of one dollar a ticket. As usual, there will be no reserved seats, but the doors will open at 7:15.

As it has been for the past four years, many of the costumes were supplied by Bing Crosby, through Paramount Studios. The entire script was very generously written by one of Mr. Crosby's writers, Ukie Sherin. Denny Johnson, president of the Youth Center, Pat Grimshaw, and Allen Knight will be masters of ceremonies and many of you will remember their antics of last year, and the enjoyment derived from them.

The show will open with an authentic Can Can number followed by several solos, dance, vocal, and piano. A western band number will highlight the show, and a Barber Shop Quartet will bring back nostalgic memories to many. Ballet numbers will again be part of the show, as done in groups and solos. The instrumentalists will make their appearance too, and as an added feature there will be a really wonderful tumbling act. The traditional chorus lines filled with surprises will be represented. A very different pantomime will be done, and our baton twirling act is back again. A little different, as the act is performed with bottles. The glee club will do a medley of

CREDIT LINE

Again this year, the students of Sunset School and Carmel High School have worked together in putting out the School Edition of the Pine Cone. A hard-working staff, under the direction of the co-editors, Judy Oliver and Sydney Tice, have brought to you what they hope is a different but newsy edition of the Carmel Pine Cone-Cymbal.

Christine Conley, high school senior, has, in her linoleum block print cover, carried out the theme of this issue, What is Your Pastime? All the interviews herein were written by students of both the high school and the grammar school. All the feature articles were written by students of both schools, and the musical reviews were done by those from the high school who are particularly interested in music. Many students from the journalism class worked right here at the Pine Cone office in collecting news articles and society notes.

Committee Announces American Legion Auxiliary Essay Contest Winners

The winners of the annual American Legion Essay Contest sponsored by Carmel Unit 512, were announced this week by committee chairman, Bonnie Giles.

In group 1, which takes in the fourth, fifth and six grades, Michael Mitchell and Betsy Helm, both of Junipero Serra, won the first and second places respectively. The essays of this group were written on What The Pledge of Allegiance Means To Me.

Students Hosts To Adults For School Week

Next week, April 26-30, is Public Schools Week. At Sunset School each class will have a specific time during the week when the parents are invited to visit the schools.

At the high school open house will be held and the annual Scholarship Carnival will be presented on May 1.

Special programs will be presented at Sunset during the week, which will give the older generation a chance to see some of the extra-curricular activities of the students. On Monday at 1:30 o'clock, a folk dance festival will be held on the south field with grades two through seven participating. Wednesday at 3:30 o'clock there will be a father's and son's baseball game with boys from the fifth to the eighth grades playing. Wednesday evening from 7:00 to 9:00 o'clock there will be an open house in room five, and the public is especially urged to attend in order to see the modernization and lighting improvements of this room, planned and carried out by the Carmel Lions Club. On Thursday at 2:30 o'clock Mr. Holman's Sunset School band will present an out-of-doors concert on the center field, and on Friday at 1:00 o'clock the Dramatics Club (se-

Lyon Is Mayor Again; Patnude Fire Commissioner

By Sue Nutter
 Horace Lyon was again chosen Mayor of Carmel by the City Council Tuesday night at the meeting of the new City Council. John Chitwood and Carl Patnude were officially invested after taking the oath of office and the loyalty oath. Mayor Lyon appointed the commissioners which are as follows: Commissioner of Streets, Francis Whitaker; Commissioner of Health and Safety, Geraldine Smith; Commissioner of Fire and Water, Carl Patnude; and Commissioner of Police and Lights, John Chitwood. These were reappointments with the exception of Patnude. The Mayor acts as Commissioner of Finance and his committee includes the Commissioners of Streets and Fire and Water.

The old council canvassed the votes which included counting the 28 absentee ballots. The results are as follows: Chitwood 19, Whitlesey 17, Patnude 16, Tanous 2, (Continued on Page Thirteen)

Our American Privileges and Responsibilities, the title given to the group 2 essays, which consists of grades seven, eight, and nine, was won by Gail Mackenzie, an eighth grade student at Sunset School. Second place went to seventh grader, Hansy de Petra, also of Sunset. An interesting twist on Hansy is that she arrived in America only a year ago, and at that time could speak no English. We feel that's quite an accomplishment.

Carmel High School junior, Lynn Taylor, won the third group contest with her essay entitled, What Are Our Inalienable Rights? Jeanne Fratessa, another high school junior won second place for her essay on the same subject.

The essays were judged here in Carmel by Dr. Charles Pearson, Mr. Bill Bjornvold, and Mrs. Karen Hicks. The first place winners (those mentioned above) will now be sent to compete for district honors. When the district winner is announced, it will be entered in the state-wide competition. In the first group, the state winner will receive a $25.00 cash prize, and the second place winner will receive a $12.50 cash prize. The group two

Army Of Committee Workers Going Full Steam On P.T.A. May 1 Carnival

The jointly sponsored P.T.A.-Girls' League Scholarship Carnival will be held on the Carmel High School grounds on May 1, from 11:00 o'clock in the morning to 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon. A pre-carnival parade will take place in town from 10:30 to 11:00 o'clock on Saturday morning.

The P.T.A. has been busily working on their booths and have chosen chairmen for them. Mrs. William Johnson is in charge of the needlework booth; Mrs. Russell Catron is chairman of the plant booth; Mrs. Constance Padelford has the food booth; Mrs. R. S. Pratt is in charge of Carnival donations for the River School; the baking contest is headed by Mrs. Max Taplin; Mrs. J. O. Belvall is telephone chairman; Mrs. Adrienne Engle is in charge of publicity; and Mrs. Gordon Reid will head the High School group providing the luncheon.

Carrying the High School's part in the Carnival, there have been chosen ten committees. The general business will be handled by the coordination committee with Jeanne Fratessa as its chairman and Ginger Colbert, Cynthia Cox, John Thompson, and Toni Hamilton as committee members. The committee for handling prizes consists of chairman, Cynthia Cox, and committee members, Carole Spaulding, Carey Edson, Sandra Kohner, Tweed Champe, Pamela Dixon, Robin Burnham, Sandra Smith, Lynda Malis, Jackie Bertoglio, Lucy Carmalt, and Charlotte Boyd. The booth committee, headed by Priscilla Clark and her committee of Tweed Champe, Lorna Forster, Carey Edson and Pamela Dixon has the job of organizing and delegating the booths. The big job of publicity is being undertaken by Lynda Malis and Lynn Taylor with a committee of Lee Alexander, Leslie Geyer, Trulee Scarlett, Lynn McMath, Sandra Smith, Tweed Champe, Lucy Carmalt, Robin Burnham, Renee Valon, Bonnie Wager, Carey Edson, Gretchen Herron, Nancie Nielsen, Sue Bestor, Avonne Houghtelling, and Pamela Dixon. Bonny Lynn Redhead is heading the parade committee with Lynda Malis, Lynn McMath, Ginger Colbert and Sally Spurr as her committee members.

The baking contest is under the management of Naida Smith. Sarah McCloud is in charge of the Carnival's finances with an assisting committee of Carol Boyd, Karen Johnson, Leslie Geyer and Nancie Nielsen. Reed Putnam heads the committee in charge of microphone and music at the Carnival. His assistants are Bill Ferguson, Shari Mayo, Margo Sloane, and Naida Smith.

Exhibits and entertainment on Carnival Day will be organized by Sally Spurr, chairman, Lucy Elstob and Karen Johnson, committee members. A committee for arranging entertainment for the very small children attending the Carnival will be headed by Mary Garcia with her committee of Lucy Carmalt, Robin Burnham, Sandra Smith, Lynda Malis, Leslie Geyer, Nancie Nielsen, Toni Hamilton, Lorna Forster, Sue Bestor, and Avonne Houghtelling.

Concessions, games, movies, refreshments, and an auction will be all-day features of the Carnival. The P.T.A. booths include needlecraft, food, plants, and a baking contest. Carmel High School will feature eighteen concessions.

This year the Carnival will have "live" demonstrations in the following fields: industrial arts, radio and electronics, the Carmel High School Band, life science exhibits, folk dancing by Sunset School and the adult school, and art exhibits.

A luncheon will be served by the P.T.A. for adults at the price of 50¢ and for children at the price of 35¢. This event will be held in the cafeteria from 12:00 noon to 1:30 o'clock.

The P.T.A. and high school students are now working hard on collecting small inexpensive items for our booths and white elephants for our auction.

Ross E. Bonham

Ross E. Bonham, former Carmel mayor and a resident of the Peninsula for over 30 years, died Tuesday morning in a local hospital, following a three-day illness. He had failed to rally from a heart attack on Saturday, though his health to that time had apparently been excellent.

He and his wife, Lillian, originally came to the Peninsula in 1923 from Twin Falls, Idaho—a community which they and several other pioneer settlers established back in the late 1890's.

Bonham was born, raised and educated in Galesburg, Illinois, and in 1897 was married there to "the prettiest gal in town", Lillian Mae Temple. Not long after their marriage Bonham and his young bride became interested in homesteading opportunities in the west; packing up their worldly goods, they journeyed into Idaho and eventually filed on a 160-acre claim in a big government-owned tract of land which had just been opened to the public for settlement. The tiny cabin they built for themselves was a part of the little settlement that soon became dignified by the name Twin Falls, and ultimately grew to one of the largest cities in the state.

During the years in Idaho, Bonham worked as a farmer and later a storekeeper, earned extra livelihood by teaching dancing at night. Lillian, gifted with a lovely voice, helped out by playing the piano and singing at community gatherings. They lived an active and industrious life in Twin Falls until the early 1920's, when Lillian's health demanded a move to a lower altitude.

The Bonhams came to California in 1923, and established themselves temporarily in Pacific Grove, where Bonham worked with Holman's hardware department. Shortly afterwards he transferred to Holman's Carmel branch; when L. C. Merrill bought the store, he and Bonham became partners. Later Bonham became sole owner, and the store was renamed Bonham's Incorporated. The store, now known as the Village Hardware, still stands in its original location on Ocean Avenue; it was purchased by Clayton Neill following Bonham's retirement in 1943.

Ross Bonham became mayor of Carmel in 1928, elected on the so-called "business ticket". At the end of his two-year term of office, he was elected to serve another two years on the city council. He and his wife were also active in musical and theatrical circles. He was a 32nd degree Mason and a member of the Shrine, and both he and his wife belonged to the Eastern Star; Bonham was instrumental in the building of the Masonic Temple here.

Since his retirement, Mr. and Mrs. Bonham traveled extensively both in this country and in the Hawaiian Islands. Seven years ago, on December 2, 1947, they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary here with an open house to which scores of their friends were invited.

The Carmel Masonic Lodge was in charge of funeral services held yesterday afternoon.

MPC CAMPUS NEWS

By Allene Knight

The big annual Work-Play day is to be held on Wednesday of next week. The day's activities will be something like this. The morning will be devoted to working around the campus. All the students who are participating have signed up on the Department team of their choice and each team is responsible for a certain section. At noon there will be a lunch. Following this the relays begin. The eight teams, Art, Business, Engineering and Home Economics, History, Language and Journalism, English, Music, and Political Science have their representatives in each one of the relays. After the relays will start the volleyball, tennis, and archery competition between the teams. Then comes the Bar-b-que, the dance and the announcement of the winner.

The AWS is planning a fashion show-tea for some time in May. Those girls who will be models for it from Carmel are Carole Byers, Peggy Carpenter, Alice Lutes, Marilyn Marrs, Allene Petty, Edith Rigdon and Myrna Sutton.

Dr. Balsam Speaker For Unitarian Group

The Unitarian Fellowship will hear Dr. Louis Balsam this Sunday, on the subject, "Personal Integrity in a World of Anxiety".

Dr. Balsam points out that we founded this nation on courage, on deep spiritual values, and on integrity. Now, in a time of crisis, certain individuals are trying to precipitate us into a state of fear psychosis under the influence of which we will be willing to toss these values overboard.

Dr. Balsam will discuss specific ways of reinforcing our courage and our integrity in a time of crisis.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock at the Girl Scout House, Sixth and Lincoln Streets. The public is invited.

Pasmore And Gallegos In Unusual Concert Please Musical Art Audience

BY SUSAN NUTTER, SENIOR

Held in the lounge of the U. S. Naval Post Graduate School of Monterey on Monday night was an outstanding program consisting of Mary Pasmore with her unique Viola d' Amore and the young tenor Ronald Gallegos, accompanied by Mary Whitmer on the piano. Mary Pasmore's interpretation of Andante and Menuett by Milandre, 1770, and Lezione (Sonata No. 2) by Ariosti, 1660, was quite a demonstration with its special and pizzicato effects. The Viola d' Amore is a rich, sweet toned, fourteen-string instrument used up to about two hundred years ago. Because of its difficulty to play, less complex members of the violin family replaced it, and so today there are approximately twelve Viola d' Amores in the world in use.

As an encore Mary Pasmore played a very impressionistic old Italian love song, Plasiar D' Amour along the modern idea which especially demonstrated the qualities of the Viola d' Amore.

The encore included a Japanese love song of which the title in English means "Your lover is far away and you are longing to be with him." One of the most extraordinary accomplishments of Mary Pasmore and her instrument is the constant playing in harmonics.

Ronald Gallegos sang with his well-controlled voice of quality some old Italian classical love songs including O' Cessate Di Piagarmi by A. Scarletti, 1659-1725; Selve Amiche by A. Caldora, 1671-1763; A Del Mio Dolce by Gluck, 1714-1787; Vittoria, Vittoria by Carrissimi, 1604-1674; and Il Lamento Di Federico (from L'Arlesiana) by F. Cilea, 1866. Mr. Gallegos, a very talented young man, gave an excellent interpretation of the above songs with a great deal of feeling. As an encore he sang Vesti La Giubba (Put on Your Costume) from Pagliacci. Mr. Gallegos plans to return to Mexico after he serves his time in the army to continue his studies. He was previously a student of Jan Peerce after winning an audition, and was with the Pacific Opera Company.

Mary Whitmer, the assistant organist at the Carmel Mission, did a superb job of accompanying the two artists. She is probably the best accompanist on the Peninsula. She is a master of sight reading and in Mr. Gallegos' encore she played Vesti La Giubba from memory.

Mary Pasmore returned to play unaccompanied a Sonata by Bartok on the violin. She is just as much an artist on this instrument as she is on the Viola d' Amore.

Ronald Gallegos also returned to sing Al Amore and Del Cabello Mas Sutil by F. Obradors; Aubade ("Le Roi D'Ys") by Lalo; La Ultima Canzone and La Serenata by Tosti; and O Primavera by Tirindelli.

This informal concert, sponsored by the Musical Art Club, was very unusual with the unique selections and fine musicians. It was very refreshing to all those who attended.

Henry Jorgensen

Superior Court Judge Henry Jorgensen died Saturday morning of a heart attack. The stroke occurred while he and his family were playing a round of golf at Monterey Peninsula Country Club. He was 71, and had been a Superior Court judge for the past 25 years.

Judge Jorgensen was born August 14, 1883, near Pendleton, Oregon. During his childhood the family moved to Nevada, and later to a farm near San Jose, where he attended school. He graduated from Stanford University, taking his bachelor's degree in 1907 and his law degree two years after.

He opened his practice in Pacific Grove in partnership with Robert H. Wiley. Shortly thereafter he moved his office to Monterey, and in 1907 was joined by two other attorneys, Carmel Martin and George Hudson. The three-way partnership continued until 1928, when Jorgensen received a gubernatorial appointment to the Superior Court bench in Salinas, filling the vacancy left by the death of Judge Fred Treat. He was subsequently re-elected without opposition in 1930, 1936 and 1940, and received a decisive majority in the primary vote last June.

Prior to his appointment to the court, Judge Jorgensen served for 18 years as city attorney for Pacific Grove, and later served for two years each as city attorney for Carmel and Monterey. He also served as a member of the Pacific Grove School Board from 1918 to 1928.

He was a member of the Masons, Elks, Knights of Pythias, Odd Fellows and an honorary member of Rotary, in addition to being a member of the board of governors of Stanford Associates.

He is survived by his wife, as well as two daughters, Mrs. Myrl Northway of San Francisco and Mrs. Phyllis McCallum of San Jose, and a son, Henry Irvin, a student at Stanford University. He also leaves three sisters: Mrs. Theresa Moore of San Mateo, Mrs. Minnie Beecroft of San Jose, and Mrs. Mae Martin of Fresno.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in the First Methodist Church of Pacific Grove, with the Rev. Bernard W. Lowry officiating.

Friendship Pitchers Are Mrs. Danelz' Unusual Hobby

Many times I have visited the home of Mrs. Patricia Danelz in Hatton Fields. Each time a group of multi-colored pitchers caught my eye. Finally I decided to ask her about them, and this was the result.

Mrs. Danelz collects these pitchers from interesting places that she has visited, and from friends that send them to her. She also has several very valuable ones that have been in her family for years. The pitchers are of various kinds and sizes. Among the collection are pitchers of redwood, copper and many different kinds of glass and china. They range in size from thirteen inches to one-sixteenth of an inch, the smallest one ever made.

This collection is actually a friendship collection because each one represents a dear friend or a happy occasion in her life.

Piedmont, Berkeley Kids Tamed Down

Police have had considerable trouble in the past during Easter vacation; however, it is very interesting to note that during this Easter vacation, police say that they have had little trouble with the teen-agers from Piedmont and Berkeley who yearly invade Carmel during the Easter Week.

It seems that between 15 and 20 juveniles were stopped and reprimanded for having beer in their possession. However, there were no arrests made for drunk driving, and none of these teen-agers had beer on their breaths.

This is a pretty good record, considering the trouble that the police have had with these out-of-towners in the past. No serious violations were made by the kids. All in all, they were pretty well behaved this year, probably due to the warnings that they received last year.

Lorenz Asmussen Always Knows The Time Of The Day

By Pat Ricketts, Junior

It was eleven o'clock when I entered the shop. It would have been hard not to know what time it was for I was entering Lorenz Asmussen's Clock Shop. Mr. Asmussen was over in his upholstery shop across the patio when I approached, but he dropped everything when he heard that I was interested in his clocks.

Mr. Asmussen started collecting watches 25 years ago and became interested in old clocks a short time after. He has natural ability with his hands, as his beautiful upholstering jobs show, and loves to tinker with timepieces. He does not usually repair clocks for anyone else because "sure as not they won't run." When Mr. Asmussen hears of an old clock he runs to buy it and if it isn't possible to purchase it, he spends his time admiring it.

Mr. Asmussen's collection consists only of American clocks. Most of his clocks are the type which were made around the 1800's which have wooden wheels. All of these have the names of their inventors and makers inside, and an outstanding name among these people is Eli Terry, who invented the first shelf clocks in 1810.

All of these old timepieces are beautiful and very interesting, and Mr. Asmussen knows the stories behind all of his clocks.

BIBLE STUDY STARTS SUNDAY

Starting this Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock, the New Presbyterian Church in Carmel invites everyone to attend the first of seven Sunday morning journeys through "The Greatest Book ever Written"—The Holy Bible.

Dr. Harry Clayton Rogers, pastor of this new church, says, "If you would like to know your Bible better—do not fail to start with us—pray with us—sing with us—and stay with us—as we journey".

Bibles in all languages will be on display at the church. Dr. Rogers is also trying to locate the oldest Bible on the Peninsula. Anyone knowing of such a Bible is asked to call the church at 7-4888.

The Symphony And John Loban Give Pleasing Concert

By Charlotte Boyd, Junior

The first selection on the Monterey County Symphony program was the Bach-Stokowsky Easter Chorale. It was a solemn piece with a steady rhythm. Toward the end the rhythm built up in speed and the volume increased to a moving climax.

The second selection was the Concerto in E Minor, Opus 64 for violin and orchestra by Mendelssohn. The guest soloist was John Loban from San Jose State College. He played the concerto very effectively with beautiful tone and an ample technique.

The third selection by the orchestra was Pavanne Pour Une Infante Defunte by Ravel. It was a slow piece played with much feeling.

The fourth selection was the Ruy Blas Overture by Mendelssohn. It was a fiery, exciting overture featuring the brass section, and it brought an enthusiastic response from the audience.

The fifth selection, On Hearing the First Cuckoo in Spring by Delius, was played very well by the orchestra. It featured the clarinet imitating the sound of a cuckoo.

The final selection was the Love Music from Boris Godounov by Moussorgsky. It was a very moving selection, starting slowly and building to a magnificent climax.

Peter Ferrante's Hobby Takes Him Sailing Abroad In His Easy Chair

SUSAN NUTTER, SENIOR

In interviewing Mr. Peter J. Ferrante, a prominent attorney on the Peninsula and a long time resident of Carmel, who previously was a member of the Carmel School Board, on his hobby of collecting stamps, I was completely dumbfounded. I have never realized what a wide field stamp collecting is. You can collect stamps on topics, countries, or just all stamps in general. Mr. Ferrante has a cataloged collection of ship stamps.

He has stamps from every country, colony, and island in the world, making an approximate total of 7,000. According to the Scott Catalog of Postage Stamps (a stamp collector's bible) his collection will be complete when he reaches the 11,000 mark.

Mr. Ferrante started his collection eight years ago at his wife's suggestion. He says that it is the greatest way to study geography that he has ever known. He has a large up-to-date ship's map with every single island on it in his den and refers to it constantly. He gets the majority of his stamps through a local dealer, but many others are acquired from the American Philatelic Association and friends from all over the world.

Cataloging a topic stamp collection is a job in itself. Mr. Ferrante catalogs them according to countries, and all stamps are mounted in fairmount with a black background and are contained in volumes, of which he has thirteen. I asked Mr. Ferrante what is the most expensive stamp in the world and received the answer that the British Guiana No. 13, which has a ship on it, has a cataloged value of $50,000.

"I don't think I'll ever complete my collection," he concluded.

He spends about two or three or more hours a week on this hobby.

Mr. Ferrante pulled a volume out of the bookcase and pointed to a particular stamp and asked me to find the ship. The stamp had a picture of Queen Isabella of Spain sitting in a chair conferring with Prince Henry the Navigator. As far as I was concerned there was no ship in sight. Then he told me that on the chair that Queen Isabella is sitting is carved a ship, and can only be seen with a very powerful magnifying glass. Then he showed me several stamps on which only a small dot represented a ship, but under the magnifying glass the dots are perfect little ships.

The most important thing about collecting stamps is the fascinating things that they depict. One night Mr. Ferrante was mounting a stamp of Camoens and the Lusitades, and became quite curious about who the Camoens and the Lusitades were. After five hours of searching he discovered that Camoens was a scholar and the Lusitades were his writings. As you can see, it is very easy to get lost in what the stamps depict.

After interviewing Mr. Ferrante and seeing his collection, it is obvious that is one of the fascinating of its kind in the world.

RICHARD KROTH TO SPEAK AT ART GALLERY

The Carmel Art Association Gallery has invited Mr. Richard Kroth to lecture on Physiological Colors on Wednesday evening, 8:00 o'clock, at the Carmel Art Gallery. Mr. Kroth is a New York artist and lecturer and has held one man shows in New York, Stanton Island, Bryn Mawr, Los Angeles, Sacramento, Carmel, and Dornach, Switzerland. He teaches painting in New York City, and tours the country giving lectures.

This should be very interesting lecture for artists and art lovers alike.

—Sue Nutter, Senior.

The most were brought back from such countries as France, Italy, Holland, Sweden, Denmark, and Portugal. Some of the slippers were made on our own peninsula. One slipper was a gift from Dr. Bovik's great grandmother, and another, a small blown glass one from Italy, is eighty or a hundred years old. They range in size from less than one half inch to five inches.

Mrs. Bovik began her collection in 1934 when a friend gave her four priceless slippers. She has, since then, collected them during her travels in this country and in Europe. Because of her extensive traveling, it became necessary to give some of the original collection away, thus diminishing it by about 400.

A.W.V.S. Garden Tour Set For May 5

The third annual garden tour sponsored by the Monterey Peninsula Unit of the American Women's Voluntary Services will be held on Wednesday, May 5, from 10:00 o'clock in the morning to 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Twelve beautiful gardens which have not been shown on the two previous tours in Pebble Beach, Carmel and on the Monterey Mesa, will be open to the public.

Luncheon, coffee, and sandwiches will be served in the William May Garland garden from 11:30 o'clock in the morning to 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Luncheon will be limited to 600 and reservations should be made as soon as possible. Tickets are on sale in all flower shops in Carmel, or may be obtained from Mrs. Josephine Johnson, telephone 7-4368. Mrs. Richard L. Bower is chairman of the garden tour. Mrs. Roy Page, Unit chairman, will be in charge of the luncheon. Names of committee chairmen and members will be announced next week.

Wherever She Goes Mrs. Bovik Hunts Glass Slippers

By Sidney Tice, Senior

When I was assigned to interview Mrs. Ellis Bovik concerning her collection of glass slippers, I got into my car and drove out to her home in Pebble Beach. Upon entering her home, I was immediately impressed by the decorations therein. The house itself is something to write about with its comfortably modern atmosphere. In part, a Hawaiian motif is carried out, but in general it is just a cozy livable home decorated in abundance with plants and greenery. The reason I am even mentioning the Boviks' home is because it is in keeping with this issue's theme in that its designing and building has been a pastime project for almost four years. When Mrs. Bovik entered the room, I realized how well she fit into this home which she and Dr. Bovik had built. With her perfectly charming manner, I immediately became at ease.

Remembering my assignment, I began asking her questions about her very interesting collection. I was conducted into the breakfast room, which is where the slippers are on display. A kidney-shaped dining table is her treasure box. The slippers are encased about five inches below the glass table-top. Each slipper is held fast by a dab of sticky wax so that any movement of the table will not upset it. The glass top is sealed tightly as protection against dust. As we talked about her more than 250 slippers, I looked at some from practically every country in Europe. Some which impressed me

Biology Students Keep Weather Records In Natural Area Project

In December of 1952 the advanced biology classes of Carmel High School desired a place to be set aside for the sole purpose of watching and studying plants and animals in their native habitat. Thus the Natural Area of our school was born and has since proved to be an invaluable asset to the students. Each year under the capable guidance of Miss Enid Larson, many biological problems are met and solved.

The most recent of these problems concerns the weather, a complete weather recording station and an industrious student. Howard Roloff, senior class member and a third year biology student, has proven to be outstanding in his work with the weather. Each day since September of 1953 he has recorded daily weather readings. Some of the interesting excerpts from Howard's data are as follows: At no time since September has the temperature fallen below 34° and every month we have had a reading higher than 70°. There have been two complete months of sunshine (during school days) and in the month of March there were eight completely cloudy days. The rainfall to date is 12.76 inches and the wind velocity when the readings are taken at three o'clock has reached 25 miles per hour. These are but a few of the many interesting facts to be found in a notebook now being compiled by the third year students.

This notebook has been divided into five distinct chapters. Each will cover thoroughly a part of the natural area. These divisions are weather, growth of pines, soil and bird watching and last but not least, the wood rat population.

As a result of this constant study, Mr. Edwards, vice-principal at Carmel High School, is planning to make a film of the natural area and the many projects covered by the students each year. The rewarding results of Howard's weather project will be filmed and Howard will portray himself and explain how his interest in the weather will be a benefit to the entire group. This movie will explain to everyone how the permanent records of weather conditions and their surrounding data help everyone to work together and share in one person's experience. In the movie we shall also see the enthusiasm that Miss Larson so wonderfully instigates in the pupils of her classes. A chance to see nature undisturbed is a valued one and the students of Carmel High School eagerly accept this fact. Because of it they are assured an optimistic outlook on the future through science.

"We heated water for 104 baths for only 78¢"

reports Mrs. Frank Jenkins, of Stockton

"When we moved West," says Mrs. Jenkins, "we soon found gas and electricity are much cheaper here. Now we use them more than ever... for more comfortable living."

Look how much cheap gas and electricity did for the Jenkinses in just one month

150 hours of lighting	$ 2.46
90 meals cooked (for family of 4)	.98
2250 gallons of hot water for 104 baths	.78

Sweet Little Johnny . . .

By SYLVIA GIEM, Sophomore

John was thoroughly angry. John was four years old and very spoiled. As an explanation of this last statement, I will say that his mother and father believed in letting the children "express themselves".

Anyway, when John was angry it meant sure destruction. When little Johnny was three, Johnny could go to the beach any hour of the day, any day of the week no matter what. All he had to say was "Beach", and he went. In the middle of the night he would get up, and jump up and down on the scales just because he liked the noise. Sweet little Johnny was even allowed to throw his food in any direction he pleased. (I ought to know—I cleaned up the walls after him.)

Now, to get on with the story. As I said before, Johnny was thoroughly angry, which, of course meant a nice little tantrum. For some reason or other, which I won't take the trouble to explain, little Johnny was alone in the house. He started with the things which were most noisy when dropped from as high as Johnny could reach. (Johnny was standing on the table top.) When he had made quick work of all the breakable things within his reach, he went to the books. He did a thorough job of them, too. He started with the pages and when he was finished with the books, he calmly went to his parents' bedroom. He pulled out all the drawers and threw everything all over everyplace. He dropped a few of the dresser drawers on his sweet little toes, which only made sweet little Johnny angrier.

Suddenly, from nowhere, came a great roar of flames. Smoke filled the house and sweet little Johnny's tantrum vanished before you could say Jack Robinson.

The end of Johnny came as it usually does to the other sweet, darling Johnnies who play with matches. Psychologists might say that poor little Johnny had had a complex of one kind or another that made him do such a terrible thing. Now I say that all sweet little Johnny needed was an old-fashioned spanking and to heck with the "modern" method of letting nice children like Johnny "express themselves".

Review of Easter Concert

By SIDNEY TICE, Senior

A beautiful day and the naturally perfect Carmel Valley Bowl provided the background for the Easter Concert held at the Edison Holt Ranch last Sunday. By way of beginning the concert, Mr. Edison Holt welcomed the thousands of people who had come to see and hear the many guest entertainers.

The Monterey County Symphony Orchestra began the program with the Easter Chorale by Bach-Stokowsky. Then lovely Lucille Norman made her first appearance on stage as she sang Because. A spontaneous encore was provided as Miss Norman sang The Old Grey Mare, and Meet Me Tonight in Dreamland. Her vibrant voice filled the acoustically perfect Bowl, and no one moved until she was finished.

Following Miss Norman's selection the Symphony Orchestra played Pavanne Pour Une Infante Defunte by Ravel. Next, Mr. John Boles came on stage. Mr. Boles sang It's Wonderful, and If I Loved You, and as an encore, Sylvia.

The Faculty Male Quartet from the Russian division of the Army Language School with Michel Chordas as director, sang five selections, three of which were in Russian. Again, the Monterey County Symphony performed, this time with Love Music from Boris Godounov by Moussorgsky. This selection was exceptionally well done. At this point in the program, Lucille Norman returned to sing the beautifully spiritual Ave Maria.

Tom was in a rage;
Tom had bought new shoes,
That were in the squeaky stage.*

*They squeaked in every key imaginable,
From low C to something intangible.
They squeaked in duets both sharp and flat;
They pierced Tom's ears beneath his hat.*

*Poor, dear Tom, what a terrible plight,

The Date . . .

By BRUCE LANGSHAW, Senior

Eons ago when a man wanted a woman he went out and clobbered one on the head; this meant that she was then his. In our present times the process through which a man gets a girl is much more complicated, expensive, and now the girl decidedly has the advantage. The basis of this new process is the "date."

The "date" consists of a boy arranging to take a girl out, even though he is fully aware of the fact that it will cost him a small fortune, a lot of worry and troubles, wear and tear on his automobile, and can only lead to the utterly dark depths of matrimony!

The boy is not usually aware of the fact, but it was the girl who made the "date." If they are in school, she managed to look attractive enough in one of her classes to make him think that he wanted to take her out. If they are out of school the girl snagged him in an elevator, bus, or office.

While on the actual "date", it is the girl's role to play dumb and naive. This gives confidence to the male who is slow thinking, egotistical, and conceited anyway. The boy acts manly while the girl stands back and tries to figure out if he really is or not.

Dating usually starts at about the junior level in high school. At this age the boy is awkward, shy, stupid, and his allowance is just at the right level for the average girl.

America is just the place for dates. Practically everything is bought on the installment plan. The date is an installment. You pay your money and take your pick. The final installment comes in the form of a little gold ring over which the girl "ooh's", her mother "aaw's", and her father "a-hah's!"

In every crowd there has to be someone different. There are still a number of boys (although they are going out of fad) who would rather spend their money on sensible things. According to the popular belief (started by the girls), there is something wrong with this type of boy. If he wants to spend his money on guns or fishing equipment, he is clearly a non-conformist or wallflower.

After nine or ten dates, and the boy and girl consider themselves serious, they then go "steady". This means that the boy promises to spend all his money on her; the girl wears his ring and promises to take all his money from him.

Dating is very good for the average boy and girl in America. The boy gets used to having no money for himself, no time for himself, and he quickly learns the process of making up after a fight. For the girl, dating is good too; it gets her used to her position in a life of luxury, and it prepares her for advanced "gold-digging."

Review of Marjorie Doolittle's Show

By JUDY RIGSBY, Senior

Marjorie Doolittle, a well-known Carmel artist, had several of her latest paintings on display in a one-man show this week at the Carmel Art Association Gallery. Mrs. Doolittle's work has been attracting favorable attention for several years, but her latest paintings prove to be exceptional. Mrs. Doolittle studied abroad before coming to Carmel with her husband in 1941.

Mrs. Doolittle has had previous exhibits in Carmel, and she has won honors and awards, not only in Carmel, but in Los Angeles. She has had exhibitions in the Los Angeles Museum, California, Palace of the Legion, etc. Mrs. Doolittle has studied under Hans Hoffman, Millard Sheets, and Patricia Cunningham.

Mrs. Doolittle's style in her paintings is simplified. Her rare ability with colors puts the force into her paintings. Her oils range from muted pastels to vivid reds as in her painting of Columbia. Not only do her colors bring

Williams-Chaffey Wedding

Tomorrow afternoon brings to a climax what has been the center of community activity in Carmel Highlands for the past four months—the wedding of Marian (Bee) Williams and Ens. Ben Taft Chaffey.

The ceremony will take place in the spacious garden adjoining the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. T. M. Criley, in the Highlands, at 3:00 o'clock. Mrs. John Chaffey (Colette Ferguson) of Monterey will be the matron of honor; bridesmaids will be Barbara Thomas of Los Angeles, Serena Duffy of Washington, and Janet Jaynes of Palm Springs, all Stanford classmates of Bee's, and Barbara James, a longtime friend and the granddaughter of Mrs. D. L. James of the Highlands. As her junior bridesmaids, Bee has chosen Lucinda Lloyd, Nana Dee Lofton, and Alice Williams (Bee's cousin). Penny Nesbitt, Alison Miller (Bee's cousin), Tasha Doner, Melissa Lofton, Christine and Cynthia Barham, Mardi Lloyd, and Bee's sister, Honey Williams will be the flower girls.

Prescott Nichols of Palm Springs will serve as best man and Michael Criley of Claremont, Richard Shea of Riverside, Sargent Horwood, John Chaffey (Ben's brother), and Bee's brother, Red Williams will take charge of the guests.

Bee, who will be given in marriage by her father, Dr. Russell Williams, is wearing a dressy, white cotton dress in the same style as those of her bridesmaids. Their dresses, however, will be in pastel shades. The attendants will be wearing floral crowns in their hair instead of the usual hats.

Dr. Harold Wilke from Illinois, an old friend of the family, will officiate at the ceremony. Immediately following the wedding there will be a reception in the flower-decked garden and a wedding supper will be held later for the family and close friends.

Bee and Ben have not definitely decided upon a honeymoon destination, but are seriously thinking of Palm Springs. They plan to live in the Highlands near Bee's family.

A few of the out-of-town guests will include Bee's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Criley from Los Angeles, their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Don Criley, Don's brother, Michael Criley, who is a student at Stanford University, and Ben's aunt, Elsie Taft of La Jolla.

Bee is a graduate of Bay School and Carmel High School, and recently completed her freshman year at Stanford. She is the eldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Russell Williams of the Highlands, and the sister of Honey, John and Richard (Red) Williams.

Ben, the son of Mrs. Priscilla Chaffey of Pacific Grove and John Eastman Chaffey of Monterey, graduated from Palm Springs High School and Stanford University. Last summer he did graduate work in marine biology at Hopkins Marine Station. He left for active duty with the Coast Guard last fall.

Voters' League Delegate

President of the League of Women Voters of the Monterey Peninsula, Mrs. Robert McDonald, will represent the peninsula at the National Convention of the League to be held in Denver, Colorado, April 26-30.

Mrs. McDonald is a resident of Carmel and the only peninsulite who will be attending the convention. She will be joining a large group of California delegates as well as approximately 1000 other members from the 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii and the District of Columbia.

The representatives are meeting to adopt a national program of work for the next two years, elect national officers, and adopt a budget.

STUDENT NEEDLE EDITORS

Seniors: Juliene Echelberger, Melinda Scheffer, Susan Nutter, Judy Oliver, Sydney Tice.

Juniors: Pat Ricketts, Gretchen Herron, Ann Sheldon, Xenia Klotz, Carol Sims.

French Program May 1

On May 1 at 8:00 o'clock in the Carmel Art Gallery, La Causerie Francaise will present three outstanding artists in a program of French drama and poetry.

Appearing on the program will be Mme. Yvonne du Parc, actress who studied dramatics in Paris both under the direction of Paul Mounet and Mme. Dussane, and Mile. Annette Bercut, Docteur es Lettres, of the Institute of French at the University of California. Mile. Bercut studied dramatics under the late Charles Dullin. Mr. Donald Martin, a student at the University of California, will also be featured on the program. His dramatic abilities are well-known in the Bay Area and especially at Mills College.

These artists plan to perform Gros Chagrins ("Big Sorrow") by Max Maurey, a comedy which they have already performed in many places and over television. The group will also give a partial reading of Rosalie by Courteline and several humorous poetry recitations.

Refreshments and a social hour will follow. The meeting is open to all members and their guests interested in the French language and culture.

April Meeting of the D.A.R.

The April meeting of the Commodore Sloat Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held Tuesday evening in the Community Room of the Monterey Public Library.

The members voted to support the purchase of the 1850 U.S. Census and the Draper Manuscripts containing detailed information of the migration from the Eastern Seaboard to the Northwest Territory, a source of material in proving Revolutionary Service. Both are to be presented to the Sutro Library in San Francisco.

An announcement was made that this chapter had received an award from the state society for fourth place in the state for net gain in membership during the year.

Members and guests present were Mesdames Caroline Buford, John M. Calder, H. R. Day, John Carter, Roy Frisbee, Fenton Grigsby, Walter Johnson, Frank La Cauza, Harry M. Lansdowne, C. H. Maxson, George De Lormier, Carl Menneken, Frank McKay, Samuel B. Moore, William T. Moore, Cherry Stevenson Neuter, George Sherer, Eva Lue Preston, C. S. Stoddard, and Misses Ellen B. Frink, Elizabeth Merrill, Genevieve Reed, and Sue Estelle Tuck.

Party For Sally

Saturday, Mrs. John Campbell gave a birthday party for her daughter Sally, who was eleven years old. The guests included all of the girls in Sally's fifth grade class at Sunset School. The girls arrived dressed in their mother's finery complete with fur neck pieces, earrings and high heels. They also wore Easter bonnets which they had made. A highlight of the occasion was the fashion show in which all the girls took part. Prizes were given for originality. There was also an Easter Egg Hunt which furnished fun for all. The guests were: Julie Campbell (Sally's cousin) Joy Fehring, Diane Shields, Mardi Lloyd, Mary Martin, Lois Patnude, Carol Wise, Janice Way, Kathy Miller, Kathy Mapsted, Shirley Glod, Penny Nielsen, Martha Campbell (Sally's sister), and Jack Campbell (Sally's brother).

Scates-Smith Wedding

Karen Scates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Scates of Carmel, and Lynn Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Smith of Salinas, accompanied by their parents, recently left for Reno, Nevada to be married.

The wedding was performed in Trinity Church by Father Ledger on Sunday evening, April 4. Karen wore a baby blue faille dress and carried a bouquet of yellow roses. The matron of honor, Patricia Hudgens, wore a yellow suit.

Many friends and members of the family joined the bride and groom at a reception held at the home of Mrs. Rex Hudgens in Reno.

After a honeymoon in Virginia City, the couple came back to Carmel, where they plan to make their home. A surprise reception was given them by some of their close friends to welcome them home.

Valley Wedding

Easter Sunday was the wedding of Myrna Wells of Pacific Grove and Donald C. Weber, son of Leo Weber, of Carmel Valley.

They were married at 9:30 Sunday morning at a nuptial mass performed by Father Ignatius Loughran and witnessed by a small company of family members. Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Catholic Church in the Valley was the setting for the ceremony.

Myrna's father gave her away in marriage. She wore a navy blue silk shantung coat dress with a small pink straw hat that was trimmed with pearls and rhinestones and a brief veil. Pink gloves, navy accessories and a corsage of white orchids completed her wedding costume.

A champagne breakfast was served at Casa Contenta following the wedding, and it was from there that the newlyweds departed for a week's honeymoon in the Northern California mountains.

When they return, it will be to occupy a cottage near the river at Los Laureles. Their home was a wedding gift of the bridegroom's father, with whom he is associated in the painting business.

Raggetts Plan Vacation

Taking off this Sunday for a months' vacation in the East are the Mark Raggetts of Carmel, and their two sons, Michael and Jon.

The Raggetts are driving all the way and are planning to take the southern route back and the northern route home. Spots they plan on seeing are Washington, D. C., New York, and then up in Quebec in Canada. Returning, they're going to stop in Yellowstone National Park, travel on down through Salt Lake City, and then back home.

Friends will occupy the Raggetts' home during their absence.

Potter Speaks in San Francisco

Zenas L. Potter spoke Thursday on India and the West before the World Affairs Council of Northern California in the Fairmont Hotel, in San Francisco. He gave substantially the same talk he gave before the Monterey Rotary Club last week, save that his talk was followed by a quarter of an hour of questions. The talk was based upon the speaker's experience as press officer of the American Embassy in India.

Potters Have Honored Guests

Recent house guests of the Zenas L. Potters have been Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wycoff of Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stroub of Chicago, Illinois, and Mr. Thomas H. Uzzell of Stillwater, Oklahoma. Mr. Wycoff has recently returned from Greece, where he was advisor to the Greek government on agricultural marketing. Mr. Stroub is the "honey king" of America. During World War II he was in charge of food rationing for the country. Mr. Uzzell is known for his long established service to writers and prospective writers. All agreed that the Monterey Peninsula is outstanding for charm.

Firemen's Ball

The annual Firemen's Ball will be held this Saturday night. The activity will begin at 9:00 o'clock at the Rancho Del Monte Country Club. The entertainment will be furnished by the De Maria Brothers Orchestra. All of the proceeds will go to the volunteer firemen.

Meeting of Un-Incorporated

There will be a meeting of Carmel Un-Incorporated on Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the Carmel High School cafeteria. All residents of the area are invited to consider the subject of the fire protection situation and fire insurance rates in the un-incorporated areas around Carmel.

Country Club Dance

The committee in charge of arrangements for the informal dinner dance to be held Saturday evening at the Country Club, met last Tuesday to discuss plans for the affair which will get under way at 7:00 o'clock with cocktails. Dinner will be served from 8:00 until 10:00 o'clock, and dancing from 9:00 until 1:00 o'clock.

Todds Visit Flavins

Mr. and Mrs. John Todd and baby daughter Jane spent their Easter weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Martin Flavin.

Mrs. Todd had been down for the entire week. The family returned to the Bay Area at the beginning of the week.

Panhellenic Spring Tea

The Monterey Bay Panhellenic is having a spring tea on May 23 at Casa Munras. Plans were discussed by the executive board committee of the Monterey Bay Panhellenic, which met on Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Gleb Drujina in Pacific Grove.

Seniors graduating from the Monterey Peninsula and the Salinas high schools and from Monterey Peninsula College and Hartnell who are interested in attending college will be guests at the tea, the purpose of which is to acquaint these young ladies with sorority life on campus.

The next meeting will be on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Eugene W. Hilton, 870 Jewell Avenue, Pacific Grove. This will be the last meeting before the tea so all members are urged to come to assist in writing invitations and making favors for the forthcoming tea.

Membership is open to members of national sororities in all communities. Information may be obtained by calling Mrs. D. D. Swift, Delta Gamma, 2-3170. For transportation in Carmel, call Dorothy Watson, 7-6824.

Wine Tasting Party

The three chapters of the Children's Home Society of the Monterey Peninsula are having a wine tasting party at the Highlands Inn on Sunday, May 2, from 4:00 o'clock to 7:00 o'clock in the afternoon. There will be both red and white wines served.

The Bells Take Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Bell of Carmel spent part of their Easter vacation visiting their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Bell (Carol Bedau) and two grandsons, David and Kenneth in Alhambra.

Dan is now completing his first year of teaching at Rosemead High School, and in June, with his wife and sons, he will leave for Oregon to attend Oregon State College at Corvallis during the summer, when he will start work on his master's degree in education.

Dan and his wife Carol are both Carmel High School graduates and dan graduated from the University of California at Santa Barbara in June, 1953.

Morses Traveling

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. B. Morse left Easter Sunday for a trip to Bakersfield to spend the day with the Lloyd Tevices at their ranch home there. The following day they went on to the Town House in Los Angeles, for several days, and on Tuesday, they met Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Johnson, Jr. of Birmingham, Alabama, who have left the Coronias at Long Beach following a lengthy winter cruise. The Morses plan to spend a few days cruise on their yacht Vileehi before returning to their home in Pebble Beach.

AAUW Book Section

The afternoon book section of the AAUW meets on Tuesday at 2:00 o'clock at the home of Miss Claire Kennedy on Carmelo, second house north of Seventeenth, east side of street, in Carmel. Phone 7-3000 for directions. Co-hostesses will be Miss Lucy Mills, and Miss Philippine Creelius.

Brief notes on New Books will be presented by Miss Mabel Hoffman, Miss Ella Truesdale will review Rainbow on the Road by Esther Forbes.

The chairman of the group is Miss Mabel Claire Stark.

Ricketts In Marines

Two weeks ago Mike Ricketts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ricketts of Carmel, left for San Diego for a 14 week training period in the Marines. His period of enlistment will be three years. Mike is a graduate of the class of 1953 from Carmel High School and attended Monterey Peninsula College for one semester.

Cotton Ball

Tomorrow night, there will be a dance at Carmel Legion Hall, staged by the Legionnaires and their ladies of the Legion Auxiliary. The theme of this dance is Cotton Ball, and Jerry Scoggins and his Hoe-Down Orchestra will provide the music. In addition to the dancing, there will be door prizes, entertainment, and refreshments. Jeans and gingham will be the approved dress for this Cotton Ball.

All Legion and Auxiliary members and their friends are invited to the dance which will take place from 9:00 o'clock to 2:00 o'clock.

Musical At Stevenson School

A musical program featuring original compositions by Mrs. Irmingard Charlton Horn is to be given in Douglas Hall at the Robert Louis Stevenson School, Pebble Beach, this Saturday at 8:00 o'clock in the evening. Mrs. Betty Fonteneau Lamb, contralto, member of Carmel Mission Choir and the John Farr Mothersingers, will sing the selections by Mrs. Horn, with the accompaniment of Miss Angie Machado at the piano.

Mrs. Horn, graduate of Royal Conservatory in Stuttgart, Germany, composed the music from well-loved poems by Browning, Ruckert, Sassoon, Stratton and Herrick.

On the same program, Louis Fragos, violinist and director of music at Stevenson School, will play Sonata in G Minor by Tartini. He will be accompanied by Miss Nancy Woollever of Carmel.

The public is invited to attend, and there is no admission charge.

Dee Sharpe On Play Staff

Dee Sharpe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Sharpe of Carmel, is on the production staff of Shakespeare's Hamlet, to be presented by Occidental Players on the main stage of Thorne Hall, Occidental College, this evening at 8:15 o'clock. A repeat performance will be held Saturday, according to Omar Paxson of the speech department, who will direct.

Miss Sharpe will be in charge of lighting. Unusual effects will be obtained through the use of various stage levels, and the pit has been filled in so that the stage will come within a few feet of the first row. Curtains will remain open throughout the play and scenic changes will be indicated by spotlighting the many individual portions of the set.

Miss Sharpe, a graduate of Carmel High School, is a senior majoring in speech.

Davises Give Luau

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Davis of Honolulu entertained this week at the home of her brother, Francis H. I. Brown, with an elaborate luau for which the ingredients, flowers, etc. were flown from Hawaii.

Among the guests invited were the Davises' sons, Charles and Francis, up from Los Angeles. Charles Davis, who made his debut in the Hollywood Bowl last August and in the recent Guild Opera at Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, entertained for the guests.

Still others at the fabulous luau included Kenneth Brown, Beverly Hills; Jean Beans, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Richmond, San Jose; Mr. and Mrs. W. Harold Booth, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Day, Bel Air; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Work, Jr., of Pebble Beach; Mrs. Paul Whitman, Pebble Beach; Mr. and Mrs. John Butts, Wichita, Kansas; Mrs. Arthur Goodfellow, Pebble Beach; Mr. Allen Lee, San Mateo.

Mrs. Davis and Miss Winona Love received guests dressed in Hawaiian holokus with arrangements of orchids in their hair and many leis around their shoulders.

The pig cooked for the luau came from Mr. Francis Brown's Kalahuipuaa Ranch in Hawaii.

What's Your Pastime? Students Interview Carmel Personalities

Mr. Kelleher Has Actually Talked With J. Edgar Hoover

By Suzann Pilot and Patty Van den Bergh, 8th Grade
It was our privilege to meet and interview a very interesting person who has devoted most of his life to working with the respected Federal Bureau of Investigation. He verifies this position by relating some of his feelings and knowledge to us. We were much impressed by his privilege to have actually met and talked with so great and intelligent a man as the head of our Federal Bureau of Investigation, J. Edgar Hoover. In his role as agent he is very close to the wheels of the organization.

Mr. Jack Kelleher was born and lived in Butte, Montana, until 1935. Wanting to work with the F.B.I., he went, when he was a young man, to get a job in the office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He fulfilled all the requirements for the job, as he already knew office work and typing. Until 1944 he worked with the F.B.I., but then he enlisted in the Marine Corps for duty until 1946.

There is a great deal of schooling necessary to become an agent. He must first have a law degree. Then he must go to Washington, D.C. for a full instruction course on the duties and all training necessary for his particular job. This course is 13 weeks long. Then he must take a two-weeks course on the proper use of firearms, and pistols particularly. We then asked Mr. Kelleher if he carried a gun. He pulled out a .38 caliber gun and quickly unloaded it. The agents are allowed to have their choice of guns.

Going on into the further qualifications of the job, we discovered that you must have a clean past, because after you apply for a job, they go back into your high school days to see what type of person you were. They look at your school records, and even inquire of your neighbors and friends, as to your character. The physical qualifications are very strict, too. Of course, an agent must be in good health. His vision should be 20-20, and his height should be about five feet seven inches. The main point in physical appearances is to not look conspicuous. The age limit is from 25 to 35, the one exception being during the war when it was reduced.

Are you restricted to only certain areas?
"Although we do have certain areas we live and work in, we are not restricted to any particular area. All agents may cross the state lines when working on a case." However, he must report his leaving to his headquarters so that they will see to it promptly that someone else will fill his place here until he returns. Mr. Kelleher and his family are Monterey Peninsula residents, and he has worked in different areas.

Do most agents specialize in a certain work?

"There are no specialists in the F.B.I. Although there are some different jobs, all the agents are trained in every field." The agents all respond when called upon to help each other. The different jobs range from the special employee, who has no power of arrest, to the headquarters supervisor.

Is it true that agents are often assigned to jobs they must not even tell their wives?

"Yes, often, but the wives soon learn not to ask questions if we do not attempt to give any information."

When asked the most interesting thing about his job, he replied, "that would be hard to answer, but my most satisfying experience is to bring in for prosecution a violator of the federal law."

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone

FRANK PUTNAM AND MARK RAGGETT FISH, CARPENTER

Mr. Frank Putnam of Putnam and Raggett has a favorite pastime—salmon fishing. Mr. Putnam is well equipped for this pastime as he informs us that he has "everything made on salmon fishing." This includes a fiberglass boat, four rods and reels and a Johnson Seahorse 10.

Mr. Putnam also plays golf and carries a full set of clubs. He has two extra clubs, a chipper and a mashie. He shoots in the low 80s and with a handicap of 12.

Mr. Mark Raggett also of Putnam and Raggett finds that working with tools is his favorite pastime. With these he recently built a boat and shelves. Just recently he overhauled a small automobile.

Mr. Raggett is committee chairman of Boy Scout Troop 86 and a member of the Lions Club of which he was president. Lastly, Mr. Raggett teaches Sunday school for sixth grade boys at All Saints' Episcopal Church.—Camden McConnell, Andrew Elliott, 7th Grade

DR. KOCHER GARDENS

Dr. R. A. Kocher's main hobbies are gardening and photography. He combines the two by taking snapshots of his specialized flowers which are rhododendrons, camellias and azaleas.

He used to belong to the Camera Club and showed his landscapes to the various members.

Also he now belongs to the Royal Horticultural Society in England. He thinks it's more interesting to belong to a club so he can meet people with his interests and they can exchange ideas and information. These clubs, he says, are very helpful to him because they send him a book every year which tells him of the new types of flowers.

Dr. Kocher started this hobby over twenty years ago. Also he has nearly 200 varieties of rhododendrons and over a thousand different types of plants altogether.

He likes the hobby because it's a real relief to get your outdoor exercise after a hard day's work in the office.

Dr. Kocher says, "Create something new like an artist does." He lays out a plan of his garden and he calls it his hobby, only because it shows his efforts, and it's a real improvement over nature.—Jean Elston and Marge Haak, 7th Grade

WALT PILOT GROWS REDWOODS

Mr. Walt Pilot of Pilot's Market we discover has a very interesting pastime or hobby which he started in 1940. It is growing flowers and redwoods from seeds. He owns a ranch below Carmel Mission where he cultivates these flowers and redwoods. Most of his time is spent there where he has 2000 redwood trees that have grown from seeds. He ships them to France. Mr. Pilot started this project in 1940 and works there with his son.

He enjoys this pastime very much because it keeps him outdoors in the sunshine. It is not an expensive hobby. It just takes time.—Ann Levy and Hansy de Petra, 7th Grade

GOLF IS WRITER'S HOBBY

Mr. Howard Rigsby was born in Denver, Colorado. He went to school at the University of Nevada. He worked on the college newspaper, and other newspapers on the side. This gave him the urge to write. He worked for several magazines and then became editor of Argosy magazine for a while. After college he visited Carmel several times. Each time he was here for about a year. Then he went to Paris and worked with the Paris Herald. Then he came back to the States and wrote the original play South Pacific. He then went into the army for four years. While he was in the army his play came out a success on Broadway.

He then came back from the army and settled down in Carmel. He likes Carmel because it is so quiet and peaceful. He has four children—three girls and one boy. He plans to stay in Carmel as long as he can. One of his latest books As a Man Falls was rated "terrific" by the New York Times.

His favorite pastime is golf. He enjoys his golf on the Pebble Beach golf course.—Robin Way and Steve Crouch, 8th Grade

BABS PAINTS FOR FUN

"Babs" Balzer works at the Youth Center as a cook, soda jerk, janitor, secretary and Constable of Peace and Harmony. In her spare time she is an artist. She does oil painting, cartooning, and pen and ink sketches of people (not portraits). "Babs" won a scholarship for an art course at M.P.C. the year before last. Her future is uncertain but she hopes to study dental nursing for four months in S.F. Then she will get a job and study art at night. Someday she hopes to create magazine illustrations.—Patty Elston, Joe Mason, 8th Grade

STAMPS AND MUSIC FOR MRS. JENNINGS

Mrs. Walter Jennings, the lady who runs the Browse-Around Music Shop, when asked about her pastime, said that it was "fooling around with music." She likes working with young people and helps the Youth Center by tape recording music for them. She also makes tape recordings for the Golden Bough Theatre and the Carmel Hill Theatre.

She has a topical stamp collection. She enjoys swimming and riding, but doesn't have much time for them.—Carla Budd, 7th Grade

HAVE YOU EVER THROWN ANYONE OUT?

These are the questions we asked Mr. Ted Konrad of Konrad's Creamery.

"Do you enjoy your work?"

"Yes, I like it very much." Konrad's is known as the after-school stop-in for teenagers.

"How long have you been in Carmel?"

"I have lived here for fourteen years."

"What occupation were you in before you took over Blewett's Creamery?"

"I was a milkman."

"Have you ever had any exciting experiences in your business?"

"Movie stars such as Bob Hope, Bing Crosby, Peter Lawford, John Payne, Bette Davis, Alan Ladd, Joan Caulfield, and Judy Garland have passed in and out."

"Have you ever thrown out a customer?"

"I have sent very few out because they were too noisy."

"Do you find the High School gang too noisy?"

"No, they are pretty good kids. Sometimes after a big game they get a little noisy but that's to be expected."

"What do you do in your spare time?"

"I don't have a great amount of spare time but when I do I take in sports."—Lacy Williams and Arden Hampton, 8th Grade

MISS RAINER LIKES WRITING AND SPORTS

Miss Eloise Rainer went to three colleges, Smith College in Massachusetts, Stanford, and U.S.C. It takes five years to become a secondary teacher. The grades you can teach when you are a secondary teacher are the grades seven through fourteen.

This is Miss Rainer's first year of teaching. She decided to become a teacher in her senior year of college. At first she wanted to be a writer. The subjects she likes best are English and social studies.

In her spare time she enjoys writing, swimming and learning to play golf. She took golf up because she has come to Carmel. Her favorite pastime is travelling and she has been to England and Europe and will go to Canada in the summer after teaching next year. She enjoys collecting pictures of her trips.

She has a brother who is a coach at U.S.C. and some day she hopes to teach abroad.—Tommy Hagar, Johnny Gray, 8th Grade

PAT McCREERY BAKES

In interviewing Mr. P. A. McCreery of General Insurance, I found that he is interested in raising native flowers and plants. He is also very fond of cooking, baking cakes and cookies and having barbecues. But he said he just can't bake pies.

On questioning him further I found that he is vice-president of the Youth Center Adult Board and Secretary of the Bardarson Scholarship Fund.—Eleanor McDonald, 7th Grade

MRS. PATEE LIKES HORTICULTURE

Mrs. E. T. Patee, who rents several homes, has gardening as a pastime. She says the Garden Club helps her very much. She began this pastime while living in Pebble Beach.—Edmund Patee, 7th Grade

Mr. Whittlesey's Hobby Is Writing For The Pine Cone

By 8th Graders
Brian Casiday and Billy Doolittle

Mr. Eben Whittlesey, who is a Carmel lawyer in a partnership with Shelburn Robison, started his college education at Williams College in Massachusetts. During the time he was going to college he decided to become a lawyer. One of the reasons for his decision was that both his father and his brother had been lawyers and his desire "came naturally". He graduated from college in 1936.

After his graduation his eyesight began failing him. During his stay in the hospital he thought that if he lost his sight he would like to have a guide dog. He got Milt, a German Shepherd guide dog, in 1941.

Later in that same year he passed the bar examination and became a lawyer. Shelburn Robison, who was practicing in Carmel, contacted him. Mr. Robison told him that he was going into the service and would like him to manage the firm for him. Mr. Whittlesey arrived in Carmel and began practicing in 1942. When Mr. Robison came back from the service they became partners.

Mr. Whittlesey has several things he likes to do in his spare time. He spends most of his time gardening. He likes to build things and has done cabinet work. He says he "gets a kick" out of doing these things.

He also does bricklaying and likes doing it because when you finish "you have something to show for what you have done."

Another of his enjoyments is singing. He has sung in the Bach Festival and sings in the Peninsula Men's Chorus and at church.

Mr. Whittlesey enjoys music and writes music reviews for the Pine Cone (Continued on Page Fourteen)

Committee Announces Legion Auxiliary Essay Contest Winners

(Continued from Page Three) state winner will be awarded a $100.00 cash prize, and the second place winner will receive $50.00. The first prize winner of the first group will be awarded either a $1000 scholarship to the college of his choice or a $100 cash prize. The writer of the second place essay will receive a $500 scholarship to the college of his choice or, if he prefers, a $100 cash prize.

On Tuesday May 11, a program will be presented at the Legion Hall to award local winners their Americanism certificates, and give them a chance to read their essays to family and friends. The public is invited and refreshments will be served. —Judy Oliver, Senior Editorials...

(Continued from Page Three) of the regular school functions. Now is the opportune time to introduce to you Bonnie and Jack Giles, Directors of the Center, who have given so unselfishly of their time and talents in organizing activities for our pleasure and further education. The softball games during the summer, basketball and baseball throughout the school year, barbecues and dances, and of course the Youth Follies, all serve as examples of their guidance.

We have written this in hopes that you, the public, will realize as we have, the need for adult interest and support in aiding tomorrow's citizens to be well-adjusted human beings.

Here, we, along with the rest of Carmel's youth, wish to thank the community as a whole for its help in keeping Carmel free from the many juvenile problems which have today corrupted so many of our nation's cities.

ON SUNTANNING

You may think suntanning is a simple process. You may think you just go out in the sun and get a suntan, but here is the way an anonymous girl of Carmel does it. You must have suntan oil, dark glasses, one fork, bathing suit, putty knife, beach or patio, sun, pad, water, and zinc oxide.

Then you must be very cautious when you are a tender white thing; don't stay out in the sun too long, but you must gradually stay out longer each following time. Then lie on your back while you fry on one side. Turn over and fry the other side. But don't forget to put on your sun glasses so there will be a white ring around your eyes, and put the zinc oxide on your lips—you might need them some day. After you think you're done, stick yourself with your fork to see if you're well done, medium, or rare, and just the way you want yourself. Scrape yourself off the pad with the putty knife and go home. —Joe Mason, 8th Grade

John Chitwood presented a resolution of appreciation to retiring Councilman Don Craig, for his devoted service to the City of Carmel as councilman. Craig did not run for re-election. The resolution began: "Whereas, Councilman Donald M. Craig has served as a member of the City Council of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea for the past eight years, and Whereas, during his two terms he has generously given of his time and services for the benefit of the City without remuneration, and in such service has always evidenced his love of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, and Whereas, this Council has been distinguished by his appreciation of the problems of maintaining the beauty and residential character of the community, and Whereas, the members of this Council consider it privileged to have worked in close association with him, Now, therefore, be it resolved that this Council hereby expresses its sincere appreciation for the substantial contribution made by Councilman Donald M. Craig in his unstinting and untiring devotion to the well being of the City and its citizens. Approved by the four Councilmen, the Mayor of said City, the City Attorney, and attested by the City Clerk thereof." Craig was then presented with a large basket of imported foods.

Donald Craig expressed his thanks as "It is such a very, very great honor to receive this and to have worked with the people of this city. I am very deeply touched and appreciate it. Thank you very much."

Important old Council business was a discussion of purchasing a new engine for the Mack fire engine; discussion of transfers of business licenses of places of public assembly for eating and drinking should file an application so that the Council will be given a chance to look over the business; discussion of the elimination of courtesy parking stalls because of their tendency to inconvenience renters of nearby stalls; the decision of beginning the plans of a construction to be added to the firehouse in order to house the Red Cross ambulance; and parking at the bottom of Ocean Avenue was again brought up and it was pointed out that there definitely is to be no infringement on the dunes according to the Ordinance, except for the improvement of public health and public safety. The question is: Is the parking problem considered one of these two exceptions?

An old real estate folder, 1888, of Carmel was offered to the Council by James Henry Cook. The Council accepted the offer with gratitude.

Since the termination of Don Craig's position, he no longer is a member of the Planning Commission. Appointment of a new member was postponed until the next meeting, the Mayor saying that he would appreciate suggestions from the citizens as to candidates.

CARMEL LOSES TO SALINAS

The Carmel varsity baseball team was defeated Tuesday afternoon on their home field by the powerful Salinas Cowboys, 10 to 8. The visitors squeezed all their scoring into two innings. They collected seven runs in the second inning and three in the seventh.

Bill Powell started on the mound for Carmel, but gave way to George Hunter in the second after being shelled for six runs. Hunter went to the mound in the seventh with a one-run advantage, but saw that run and two more cross the plate during the last inning uprising. He was charged with the defeat while Hal Boutte was given credit for the victory.

The Padre's biggest thrill came in the fourth inning when George Hunter unloaded a tremendous three-run homer. Dick Ledbetter was the outstanding sticker for Carmel, collecting two singles in three trips to the plate.

CIRCLING THE BASES

First place in the CCAL-B division is currently held by King City and Pacific Grove, with identical 3 wins and 1 loss records.

The Carmel Padres are holding fast to their fourth place position with a 2 and 2 record. Carmel is the most improved team in the league. Besides their two league victories they also hold a win over the powerful Santa Cruz Cardinals.

In the CCAL-A division, the Watsonville Wildcats are on the top of the heap with a 2 win and no loss record. Santa Cruz, Monterey and Salinas follow in that order.

CARMEL HOSTS KING CITY

Carmel will face King City at 3:45 this afternoon for the second time. The Mustangs won the last time 14 to 6. George Hunter will start for Carmel. He will be opposed by Tasos Melitis.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

That unwavering obedience to the eternal demands of Christ is the only way to individual salvation and progress will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Probation after Death" includes the following passage from the Bible:

"Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling" (Philippians 2:12).

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following passage will be read:

"Vibrating like a pendulum between sin and the hope of forgiveness, — selfishness and sensuality causing constant retrogression, — our moral progress will be slow. Waking to Christ's demand, mortals experience suffering. This causes them, even as drowning men, to make vigorous efforts to save themselves; and through Christ's precious love these efforts are crowned with success" (22:3).

The Golden Text is from Psalms: "Examine me, O Lord, and prove me; try my reins and my heart" (26:2).

Morris McKendry Wild's Carving Is More Than A Hobby; It's Art

BY SUE NUTTER, SENIOR

Morris McKendry Wild, a thirty years resident of Carmel, has a very interesting hobby of wood carving. Mr. Wild doesn't remember when he didn't carry a great variety of fascinating objects during his lifetime.

Mr. Wild does a great deal of high-relief work which is very unique. He built up an alphabet of Anglo-Saxon letters and has done many carvings of Bible quotations, using this type of lettering. Mr. Wild (I believe) could carve anything. A few of his accomplishments include furniture, a great many high-relief pictures, bellows, gold-leaf picture frames, buttons, birds, inlay work (especially tables, etc.) dolls, large Polynesian gods or idols (this was his first attempt in the third dimension), and probably anything else that is possible to be carved out of wood.

The most important factor of his hobby is that well-seasoned, quality wood is a must. He buys his wood from an import firm in San Francisco. He works primarily with Philippine mahogany, oak, birch, black walnut, teak, and occasionally redwood. He has done work for The First Church of Christ Scientist in Carmel, and for various people all over the peninsula. His first attempt was a novel dancing doll that he made when he was ten or eleven years old. He considers his carving of the Perigrin or hunting hawk from the Isle of Man (between Ireland and Scotland) his best work, although others think that his carving of one of the prophets is his greatest piece. He just completed or I should say turned out in one day, an artist's table with an adjustable top for his granddaughter, Christine Conley.

Mr. Wild spends most of his leisure time carving but says that, "You must not be limited to time to do good art work." By talking to Mr. Wild it is obvious that birds are his favorite subjects, and he has done quite a few different species.

One of his latest "projects" is in co-ordination with his talented daughter, Mrs. Harry Conley. Mr. Wild carves 1810-1830 dolls of American history, copied from an antique collection of Mrs. Imogene Anderson. Mrs. Conley shapes their faces, paints them, and makes authentic copies of their clothing. These dolls are accurate reproductions of wood Dutch dolls, only made in this country. The dolls are carved of sugar pine wood in pieces, which are eventually put together after being rounded and shaped. He also carves an authentic copy of a drawn-to-scale to the doll Boston rocker, which is of the same period as the dolls. Mr. Wild has carved four dolls, and Mrs. Conley is about to begin her work on the third doll. Mrs. Conley makes the clothes using heirloom lace for the petticoats, and original copies of the calicos used during that day and age for the dress. The complete costumes include an under-petticoat, an over-petticoat, pantalets, a camisole, and a blouse and empire, high-waisted skirt.

The two completed dolls have been appropriately named Mahitable (Hitty for short) and Serena. The dolls are eighteen inches tall, which includes the comb. They have black hair, three-quarter sleeves, and painted red shoes. They are very unusual dolls and are very authentic.

What's Your Pastime?

Cone as a hobby.

Another thing he likes to do is swim.

He also enjoys dogs. His favorite breeds are German Shepherds and Labrador Retrievers. In 1952 he got another guide dog because Milt was getting too old. This dog's name is Comet, and she also is a German Shepherd.

Mr. Whittlesey wished we would explain that a guide dog is not trained to protect its master from other people. If the dog served as a watchdog it would be unfriendly to everyone.

Our interview with Mr. Whittlesey was very enjoyable and interesting.

MYSTERIES ARE

ROBERT MASON'S DISH

Mr. Robert Mason of The Masons used to play golf, but since he has gone into the clothing business, he has not been able to play. He is fond of history and mystery stories. He has a collection of about 30 books on early California. He likes to cook but says he leaves too many dirty dishes when he's finished.—Craig Smith and Ronnie Hinchcliff, 7th Grade.

BONES IS MRS. DUNN'S HOBBY

Hazel Dunn of the Studio Craft, is the subject of this interview. Mrs. Dunn has an English Setter, Bones, and she dedicates almost all her free time to him. She takes him on the beach the first thing in the morning and before the sun goes down. She has had him and has been walking him for almost eight years. Mrs. Dunn likes Carmel because she has a good place to walk her dog.—Ann Levy and Hansy de Petra, 7th Grade

DR. WHITCOMB HUNTS WITH BOW AND ARROW

Dr. Dexter Whitcomb's favorite pastimes are hunting and fishing. He became interested in these pastimes as a young boy. He caught his first fish (a trout) in the mouth of the Carmel River. He shot his first deer in Carmel Valley with Clifford Le Neve, owner of the Carmel Sport Shop. When asked if he skinned it, he replied, "No, I ate it whole."

When asked, "Do you skin or mount hides and heads," he replied, "I used to as a boy, but now all I skin are my patients."

He said, "I fish in the Carmel

River and hunt in Carmel Valley and Nevada. I sometimes hunt with bow and arrows, but only deer," he said. When asked if he ever wanted to go to Africa to hunt, he replied, "Yes, if I ever get enough money to go."

"What would you hunt if you could go," I asked.

The reply was, "Everything. Lions in particular. Even people if they have an open season on them."—Pam Morris, 7th Grade

MISS HOOPES SKIS AND COLLECTS FOLK SONGS

Miss Mary Stewart Hoopes, secretary of Sunset School, has many interesting pastimes, although she works. Her favorite ones are skiing and hiking in the Los Padres National Forest and the Sierra. She belongs to the Sierra Club.

She loves to eat and collect folk songs to pick out on her guitar. She knits socks madly and takes care of her little car, Angus Austin Hoopes, so it will take her up to Yosemite for her wonderful hobbies.—Eleanor McDonald and Ann Levy, 7th Grade

SQUIRRELS ARE NOT MR. WHITNEY'S HOBBY

About 15 to 20 years ago, Mr. Willard Whitney of Whitney's restaurant, took an interest in gardening. He got interested in it when he noticed other people's gardens. He thought that the flowers were very beautiful. He said that it is fun to grow things and watch them grow more beautiful each day. His favorite plant is the begonia.

He had an unusual experience while he was gardening. It all started when he planted avocado seeds. He planted three. His avocados got to about 35 or 40 feet high. They produced about 40 to 50 avocados each year. Then came a heavy frost and the trees don't bear fruit anymore.

While the trees were still bearing fruit, the squirrels came along. Do you know what they did? They dropped the avocados on the ground. The squirrels became pests. Mr. Whitney was not able to control the squirrels but when the frost came, the squirrels went away. That's because there were not any more avocados to drop down.—Dits Requiro, Alex Utgoff, 7th Grade

MRS. HEISINGER'S IS BOOKS

We concluded that Mrs. Everett E. Heisinger, children's librarian of the Ralph Chandler Harrison Memorial Library, has little time for pastimes or hobbies. She spends most of her free time reading for fun or playing with her one and a half year old grandson, Jimmie. She would like to travel.—Eleanor McDonald, Ann Levy, 7th Grade

ARCHITECT LIKES FISHING AND GOLF

Mr. Fred Keeble, an architect, has quite a wonderful hobby. He enjoys fishing and playing golf.

Miss Larson Awarded Fellowship For Year Of Biology Research

The Fund For The Advancement Of Education has just granted a fellowship to Miss Enid A. Larson, Carmel High School biology teacher, for the year 1954-55. This fellowship allows a high school teacher who receives it full salary and expenses for travel in the United States during a year on leave from regular school duties. Miss Larson expects to spend the year studying plants and animals in the western part of the United States.

Her travels will take her first into the redwood groves of northern California, then into northern Washington, Idaho, and Wyoming. After a few weeks in the Jackson Hole country, she will go on east to Kansas and Illinois and return by way of Tucson and San Diego. In each of these states she will visit natural areas where plants and animals are allowed to live under conditions freed from man's disturbances as far as possible. For part of the year she will be studying the life histories of small mammals at the Hastings Natural History Reservation, in the Santa Lucia Mountains of Monterey County.

The general purpose of the program of the fund is to permit each of approximately 300 secondary school teachers to devote a year away from the classroom to the kind of activities which will extend his liberal education and improve his teaching abilities.

Each applicant was asked to plan the most stimulating year that he can conceive in behalf of his personal enrichment as a teacher in order to make both himself and his teaching more stimulating

He came to Carmel about 1949 and likes it very much. He went to the University of California. He likes the house which he designed and built in Los Altos. It was built of redwood. It is his favorite house that he has built.—Jim Meken, 6th Grade to his students. Each candidate's plan for the year must first be evaluated by a local committee and then by a national committee in New York. The local committee was called in February to recommend Miss Larson's candidacy for this award. This committee was composed of Mrs. Abby Lou Williams, Mr. C. Edward Graves, Mr. Howard Byrñe, Dr. C. B. Van Niel, Mrs. Wilma Cook, and Mr. Stuart Mitchell. —Pat Ricketts, Junior

Maintenance Staff Goes In For Radio In Leisure Time

Carmel High School is on the map in regard to amateur radio operators. Our own Mr. Frank Girard and Mr. Ben Viljoen are licensed amateur radio operators.

Mr. Girard and Mr. Viljoen, both custodians at the high school, are "hams" of long standing, with Mr. Viljoen holding the edge in years of experience. Each of them belongs to the Civil Defense branch of Amateur Radio and donate part of their free time to the local post in Salinas.

According to Mr. Girard, almost anyone can become a ham. He said that contrary to most beliefs, amateur radio as a hobby is no more expensive than most others. Expense usually depends on the interest of the person concerned. Mr. Girard would be glad to answer the questions of those interested.

This would seem to be a very interesting hobby for those with a bit of free time and an interest in radio electronics.
